1) READ This passage carefully and answer the questions following it

ONE day a hungry fox was walking along a dusty road when he came upon a high brick fence. Hanging over a fence was a vine covered in bunches of ripe, juicy purple grapes. As he spied the grapes the hungry fox said to himself;' Those grapes look delicious. I will jump up and get myself some'.

Taking a long run-up the fox jumped as high as he could, but his claws just missed the grapes. He tried again and again, but each time he missed reaching the grapes. No matter how hard he tried he couldn't reach the grapes and eventually he became too exhausted to try any more. Angrily he said; ' I bet those grapes are sour. I wouldn't eat them even if they fell into the road. I'll go and find myself something decent to eat.' And so the fox went in search of other food.   (2.5*4=10)

ANSWER ALL THE QUESTIONS

Q.1 READ THE PASSAGE CAREFULLY & ANSWERS THE QUESTIONS FOLLOWING IT   (5x2=10)

When George Washington was quite a little boy, his father gave him a hatchet. It was bright and new. He ran into the garden, and there he saw a tree which seemed to say to him, "Come and cut me down!" George had often seen his father's men chop down the great trees in the forest, and he thought that it would be fine sport to see this tree fall with a crash to the ground. So he set to work with his little hatchet, and, as the tree was a very small one, it did not take long to come down. Soon after that, his father came home. "Who has been cutting my fine young cherry tree?" he cried. "It was the only tree of its kind in this country, and it cost me a great deal of money." He was very angry when he came into the house. "If I only knew who cut down that cherry tree," he cried, "I would—yes, I would"— "Father!" cried little George. "I will tell you the truth about it. I chopped the tree down with my hatchet." His father forgot his anger. "George," he said, and he took the little fellow in his arms, "George, I am glad that you told me about it. I would rather lose a dozen cherry trees than hear you tell one lie."
